ZIP cabin air filters remove exhaust gases, dust, soot and pollen from the intake air and thereby protect the health of the driver and passengers -an important function, especially for persons with allergies or asthma and for children. The cabin air filters also protect the heating and air conditioning system from pollution, guarantee a clear view and thus contribute to safer driving. High-performance cabin air filters are therefore standard equipment on almost all new vehicle models. ZIP uses only filter media that meet the requirements of leading automakers and the highest standards in terms of health, safety and driving comfort.
